Brief Industrial Profile of Pathanamthitta District

1. General Characteristics of the District

1.1 Location & Geographical Area.

The youngest district in the state of Kerala nestles its head on the slopes of Western Ghats and stretches to the low-lying rice fields bordering Alappuzha district. The district consists of three natural divisions' viz. the Lowland the Midland and the Highland. The highland stretches through the Western Ghats and descends to midland in the center, down to the lowland and coconut gardens on the western borders of Alappuzha district. The topography of the district is highly undulating. It starts from the tallest hill slopes covered with thick forests on the east along the mountains down to the valleys and small hills to the flat land of coconut trees in the west. Pathanamthitta engrossed on the hilly terrain of Kerala can rightly be called the headquarters of pilgrimage tourism in the state. Sabarimala, an important Hindu pilgrimage center attracts crores of pilgrims from the different parts of India and the state.

1.2 Topography

The district has more or less the same climate conditions as prevalent elsewhere in the State, viz., dry seasons from December to February and hot seasons from March to May. The southwest monsoon from June to September and the North West monsoon from October to November provide fairly good rain. The southwest monsoon is usually very heavy and about 75% of the annual rain is received during this season. The climate is generally moderate, the temperature rising from 20 to 39 degree Celsius.

The forest area can broadly be classified as evergreen, semi-evergreen and moist deciduous. The forest is the main source of raw materials for wood based industrial units. Timber is the most important produce.

1.5 Administrative set up.

The district headquarters is in Pathanamthitta town. The district administration is headed by the District Collector. He is assisted by five Deputy Collectors holding charges of general matters, revenue recovery, land acquisition, land reforms and election.
